

MILLS SHIFTED FROM END TO A GUARD POSITION

Weather Forces Notre Dame Team to Work in Gym—Rockne on Hand to Drill the Ends in Plays.

Inclement weather again forced Coach Harper and his charges to take refuge in the big gymnasium yesterday. A fierce rain put practice on Carter field out of question and for two hours the varsity squad worked out indoors. Despite the fact that the floor of the gymnasium is composed of hard clay, the first and second team lines were put through thirty minutes of stiff scrimmage.

Captain Rockne was kept out of the fracas yesterday. Elward taking his place at left end. "Rock" assisted the coaches in showing the wing men the fine points of offensive and defensive work at the ends. The gold and blue captain has not fully recovered from the injury he received in the first game of the season and will be excused from all heavy work till such time as he feels in perfect condition. He is one of the most valuable defensive players in the Notre Dame line up and if he is in trim for the Army game, the coaches will be well satisfied.

Mills was shifted from end to guard yesterday. With the advent of Gustafson as "varsity end" the supply of material for the wing positions exceeded the demand and owing to Mills great weight and size it was decided to try him out at guard. He worked well in the scrimmage yesterday and his addition to the number of guard candidates should make keener the competition for left guard on the first team.

Berger, the big left halfback, has a bad case of "charley-horse" and was unable to be out with the squad yesterday. His leg bothered him all last week and Saturday's hard game served only to make it worse. After the line scrimmage the "varsity" ran signals for over an hour in order to perfect the new plays to be used against West Point.

Disagreeable weather for the past three days has greatly hampered the work of the gold and blue coaches and Harper has been unable to carry out the program of hard practice which he had mapped out for the two weeks preceding the Army contest.

Team Crippled. Penn. State is working hard in an effort to whip a crippled team into shape for the coming contests with Harvard, Notre Dame and Pennsylvania. Head Coach Hollenback has been seriously handicapped throughout the year because of bad injuries to his most dependable players. The weakness displayed in the Washington and Jefferson game last Saturday has led Hollenback to make radical changes in his lineup.

Captain "Shorty" Miller has been replaced by James at quarterback and Beeryman has been shifted from halfback to end. The end positions are the big trouble at State college, and on Monday, one of the regulars, Shupe, was deposed to make way for surer men. Though Penn State was defeated 17 to 0 Saturday by Washington and Jefferson, the coaches are not discouraged and are working the harder to make a good showing against Harvard next Saturday. "Dex" Very, All-American end last fall, and Pete Mauthe, captain of last year's team, have come back to State college to assist coaches Hollenback, Hansen and Harlow in putting the crippled eleven in shape to meet the strong Harvard team.

Wellington, a veteran guard, is laid up with blood poisoning and may be out of the game for the balance of the season. His place on the first team has been taken by Sayre. Barron is now playing fullback and in Monday's scrimmage Hollenback worked Welty and Yerger at the halves.

Notre Dame is to play State college at Bellefonte, Pa., and the gold and blue will have to travel fast to gain the verdict. To date Penn State has defeated Gettysburg, 16 to 0, and Carnegie Tech 48 to 0, and has been beaten by Washington and Jefferson, 17 to 0.

GLOOM IN PHILA; BAKER MAY QUIT

Home Run Hero Said to be Figuring on Going Into Business for Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Baseball fans in this city were startled Wednesday afternoon when a report became current that John Franklin Baker, third baseman of the Athletics, might quit the game to enter upon a business career. It was said that while Baker has not yet decided upon his future plans, he is seriously considering such a step.

Connie Mack, when asked about the report said he had heard nothing from Baker regarding the matter. "I am inclined to believe," said Mack, "that Baker will be seen with the Athletics next season. If he does quit the game there is nothing for us to do but fill his place."

WHITE SOX DOWN THE GIANTS AT OTTUMWA

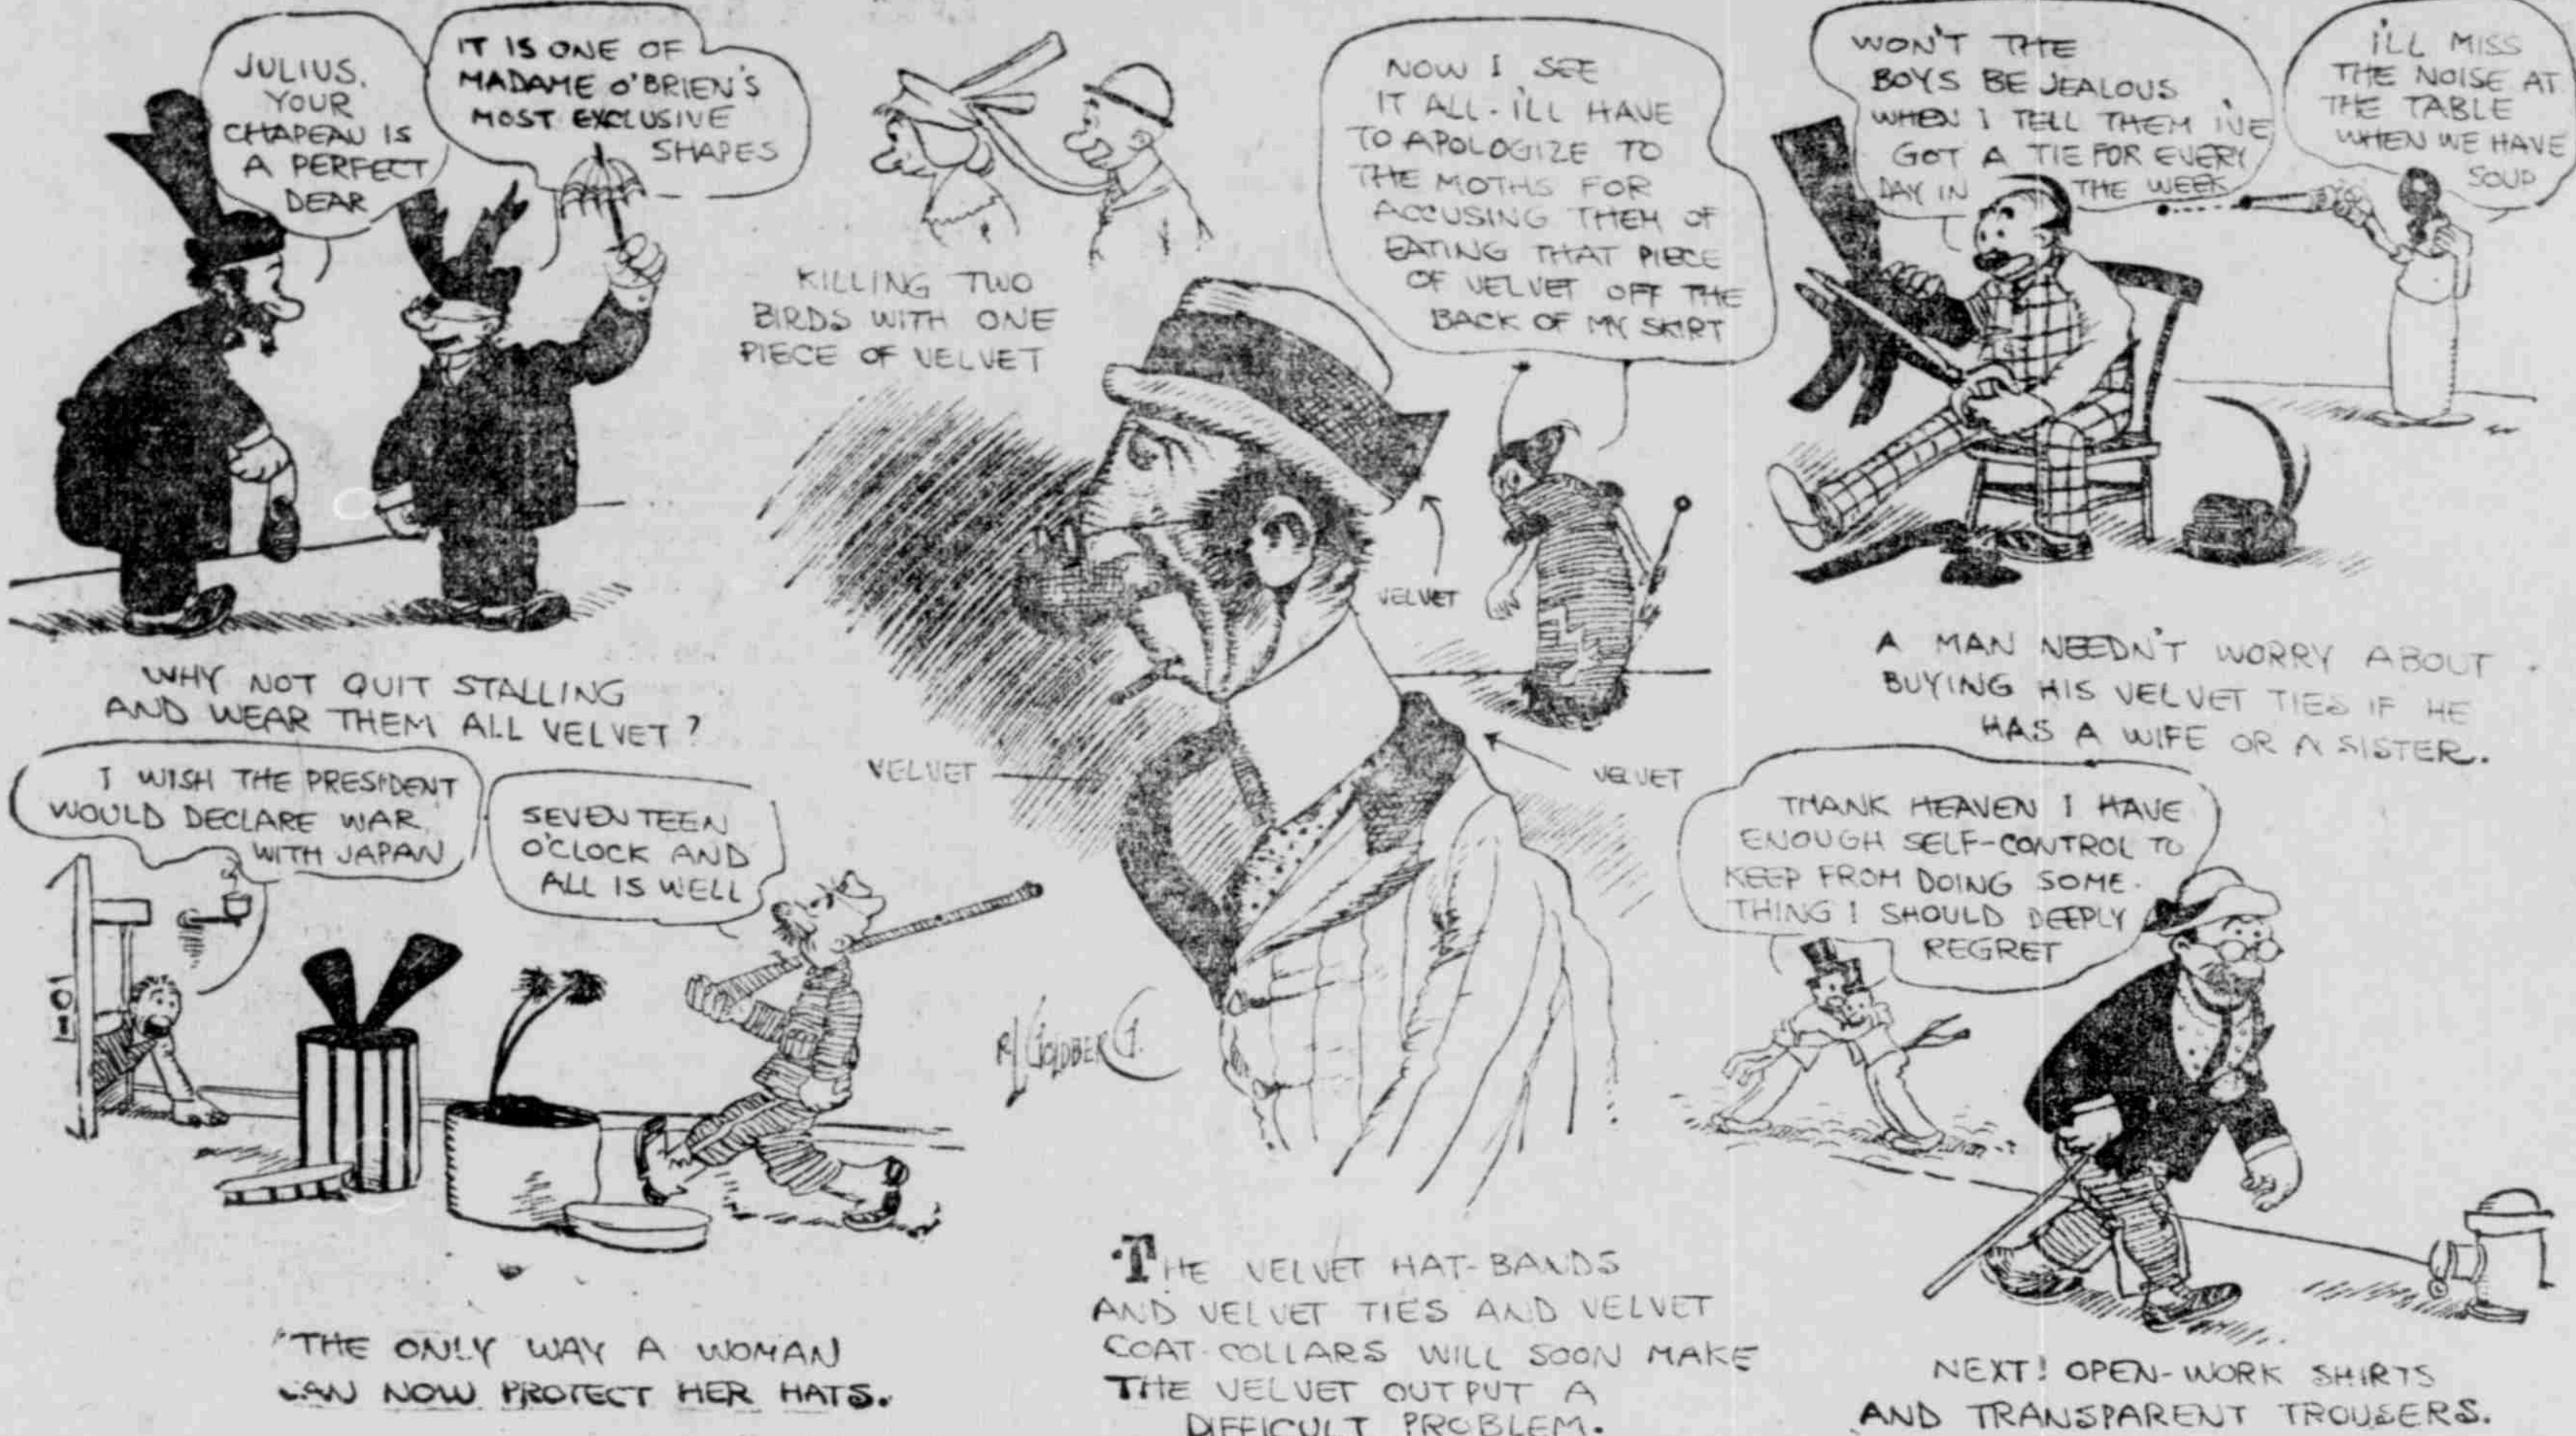

"Reb" Russell Has Too Much Stuff While Tesreau is Hit For Ten Safeties.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 23.—The White Sox pounded Jeff Tesreau for 10 hits Wednesday and won their second straight game from the Giants, 7 to 3. "Reb" Russell, who pitched for the American league team, was in fine fettle and the seven hits made off him were scattered.

PLAYER-MAGNATE WAR THREATENED

Fraternity May Try to Force the Owners to Make Concessions—Want Reserve Clause Abolished.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The long predicted war between the major league baseball players and the magnates may be declared this fall as the result of the demands of the ball players, which were made public Wednesday, and will be submitted to the magnates at their annual meetings this fall by officers of the Baseball Players' fraternity, representing about 700 major and minor league players.

The big league magnates heretofore have refused to recognize the fraternity and have paid little attention to its threats. The fraternity was organized more than a year ago, included in the 20 demands which the players make are the following: Abolition of the reserve clause in all contracts.

That all contracts being equally binding on club and player. At present they bind only the player. That when a major league player is released to a minor league club team during midseason the minor club must pay him the same salary that his major league contract called for.

That all players be furnished with two complete uniforms each year. Some clubs have forced players to buy their own suits.

The biggest fight will center on the demand for the elimination of the reserve clause. The National commission and the magnates take the stand that the reserve clause, which makes a player still a member of the club after his contract has expired, sustain the game by preventing a club with plenty of money from grabbing a star player from one of the weaker and poorer clubs. The players claim the clause is unjust.

That all players be furnished with two complete uniforms each year. Some clubs have forced players to buy their own suits.

From the same source came the report that the Cardinals' third baseman, Mike Mower, is soon to be traded to the Boston Braves.

JIMMY CRAIG BACK ON MICHIGAN TEAM

Star of 1911 and 1912 Squads Listens to Earnest Pleas of Fellow Students.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—There was joy in the Michigan football camp Wednesday afternoon when Jimmy Craig, star halfback on the 1911 and 1912 Michigan football eleven, appeared in uniform and joined his teammates in practice.

Craig had decided not to play football this year because of an injured knee, which he sustained last fall and which later interfered with his track work in the spring. Michigan's defeat by M. A. C. last Saturday and urgent pleading by the entire student body, however, induced him to re-enter the game Wednesday. It is expected that he will be in the line-up against Syracuse university a week from next Saturday.

Coach Yost left Wednesday night with 20 players for Nashville, Tenn., where the Wolverines will meet Vanderbilt on Saturday. The veteran coach had little to offer in the way of prediction as to the result of the game. Craig did not accompany the team.

STATE FOOTBALL NEWS

AT PURDUE. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 23.—The fans who have been watching the practice of the Boiler Makers so persistently every afternoon received a surprise when they learned that secret practice will be the order for the team during the next few days. Coach Smith announced at the beginning of the season that no secret practice would be held this year, but has had to change his plans, and deems the end well worth the means. A number of new plays have been given the team.

A stiff workout was given today, and Coach Smith is working to reinforce the weaker places which became evident in the game with the Badgers. A temporary shift has been made on the squad whereby Applegate will play the position which East has been holding down.

AT DEPAUW. GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 23.—The workout of the DePauw football squad consisted only of a light signal drill and the perfection of the forward pass. No one seemed to be any the worse for wear after the Wabash game Monday.

DePauw people believe that Rose Poly can be taken into camp Nov. 1. In case they do this Butler and Earlham will not be considered as formidable opponents.

AT INDIANAPOLIS. CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 23.—Illinois players showed improvement when the varsity overcame the freshmen in short order. Satisfied with the offensive work of the team, Coach Zuppke put the regulars on the field and they did a neat job of holding on their five-yard line after the youngsters had rushed the ball the length of the field.

Coach Zuppke has awakened the Illini to the fact that they will be up against a real team Saturday. The reports of the Illinois scouts who saw the Indiana-Chicago game were that the Hoosiers made a far better showing than represented by the score. It is figured that Sheldon, with two weeks in which to correct the faults which permitted the Maroons to score, will have a strong team in the field.

AT WABASH. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 23.—All eyes are now turned toward the game with Rose Poly, which will be played next Saturday at Terre Haute. No accurate dope is available on the engineers, as they have not yet met any of the secondary teams. From all reports which have reached the scarlet camp the engineers are confident of taking the scalps of the Wabash warriors when the latter venture into the "hut" next Saturday. If the Poly team wins it means that they have more than an even break for the secondary championship of the state, for in this case they will have no trouble in disposing of the Methodists, as the latter had a hard time beating the "Little Giants". Wabash will have to strengthen in offense if the scarlet is going to be a contender at all in the state championship.

AT INDIANA. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 23.—After a long workout on Jordan field the Indiana football squad reported in the men's gym for practice. In their stocking feet the men were sent through the formations and all signals were used. This feature of the practice is scheduled for every night this week. Although the team is having no trouble in handling the signals, Head Coach Sheldon is taking no chances on a misunderstanding of the figures in next Saturday's game with Illinois.

During the workout on the field this afternoon Trout, a star half back, injured his shoulder and will be unable to rejoin the squad before next Thursday. Former Capt. Flemming, who has played at every position on the team, took Trout's station.

AT BUTLER. INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 23.—Butler football fans who were expecting to see Ralph Tapscott, veteran Butler tackle, in the lineup of the local collegians when they clash with Earlham Saturday are doomed to disappointment. It was learned that although Tapscott returned to college Saturday, he was accompanied by the team to Franklin, he had changed his mind about continuing his college course. A few weeks ago Tapscott married and left school.

With the Earlham contest but three days off the Butler squad is in fine fettle for the fray.

AT EARLHAM. RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 23.—The gates to Reid field were closed Wednesday and the squad put through secret practice. Most of the time was devoted to a long, hard scrimmage in which the varsity tried out its plays. The scrubs were penetrated several times for good gains. During the last few minutes the scrubs carried the ball and the varsity failed to hold the scrubs back from short gains.

AT HANOVER. HANOVER, Ind., Oct. 23.—The Hanover football aggregation will journey to Lexington, Ky., Friday to meet Transylvania and has a fair chance of taking a victory from the Kentuckians. In order to give some of the regular a holiday to save them from possible injury Coach Hotchkiss has decided to use several substitutes against Transylvania.

WILL REMEMBER FORMER PLAYER

Bronze Memorial Tablet to be Placed Over Grave of Ralph Dimick, Who Was a Notre Dame Star.

A bronze memorial tablet to be placed over the grave of Ralph Dimick is now being prepared for the university of Notre Dame. The tablet is to commemorate the virtues of the dead football player and will soon be sent to his relatives in Oregon. At the time of Dimick's demise the students at Notre Dame collected a sum of money for a floral tribute but it was thought better to use the fund for a more substantial memorial.

Just two years ago today, Dimick, one of Notre Dame's greatest football heroes, died as a result of an injury received in a football game at Forest Grove, Oregon, between Pacific University and the alumni of the same school. The contest occurred on Oct. 15, 1911, and Dimick, who was playing with the alumni, suffered a broken rib and punctured lung while plunging through the line on a tackle around play. At first he showed signs of rapid recovery but pneumonia set in and eight days after the accident he passed away in St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, Oregon.

For three years, 1908, 1909 and 1910, Dimick was the mainstay of the Notre Dame line. His great weight and strength made him most valuable and his famous tackle around plays are still remembered by students at the university. He appeared at his best in 1909 as a member of the champion eleven of the west. That year he was unanimously chosen All-Western tackle by the sporting writers and many mentioned him for tackle on the All-American team. He captained the Notre Dame eleven in 1910 and graduated with honor in June, 1911, taking the LL. B. degree. Dimick was a man of strong moral character and it is his record for manliness as well as for athletic prowess that the memorial tablet has been prepared. Dimick had been admitted to the Oregon bar just a few weeks before his death.

CHARLESTON LOSES FLAG

Violation of Baseball Law Costs West Virginia Town Honor.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Failure to comply with the laws of baseball cost the Charleston, W. Va., team the championship of the Ohio State league for the 1913 season. The directors of the league at a meeting here refused to allow the Charleston team two seven inning games won from the Maysville, Ky., team on Sept. 21. With these games thrown out, the percentage of the team dropped to .626, three points below that held by the Chillicothe, Ohio, team, to which the directors awarded the 1913 pennant.

Pres. R. R. Pennywitt of the Charleston club announced that he would not appeal the case. He contended that the umpire limited the games to seven innings.
